

International Conference: “What Justice? The legacy of John Rawls 100 years after his birth”

16-17 December 2021,
Aula Toti, Luiss Campus at Viale Romania 32, Rome

John Rawls was born in 1921. To celebrate this important anniversary, this conference aims to (re-)consider the future of political philosophy in light of Rawls’ legacy.

December 16, 14:00 - 19:00

Chair

Valentina Gentile
Luiss University

14:00

Welcome Address

Sergio Fabbrini
Head of the Department of Political Science,
Luiss University

14:30 - 15:10

After Rawls?

Sebastiano Maffettone
Ethos Luiss

15:10 - 15:30

Q&A

15:30 - 16:10

Break

15:30 - 16:10

American Progressivism and Rawlsian Liberalism

David A. Reidy
The University of Tennessee, Knoxville

16:10 - 16:30

Q&A

Coffee Break

17:00 - 17:40

Is Rawls’s demand of reasonableness so unreasonable?

Elisabetta Galeotti
University of Eastern Piedmont

17:40-18:00

Q&A

18:00 - 18:40

The Radical Rawls. Justice as Fairness as a Critique of Liberalism

Rainer Forst
Goethe University Frankfurt

18:40-19:00

Q&A

19:30

Conference dinner

December 17, 9:00 - 13:30

Chair

Sebastiano Maffettone
Ethos Luiss

9:30 - 10:10

The Circumstances of Justice

Erin Kelly
Tufts University

10:10 - 10:30

Q&A

10:30 - 11:10

The revolution of ‘the most reasonable’: Rawls in the 21st century

Alessandro Ferrara
University of Rome Tor Vergata

11:10 - 11:30

Q&A

Coffee Break

12:10 - 12:40

Beyond Rawls? A Criticism of Fraser

Luigi Caranti
University of Catania

12:40-13:00

Q&A

Conference Convenors

Elisabetta Galeotti, Valentina Gentile,
Sebastiano Maffettone, Gianfranco Pellegrino

To participate in-person, it is necessary to register and have a valid Green Pass.